THE PARIS DYNAMITERS.

PARIS, April 25.—The editor today publishes a letter signed by a number of Ravachol's friends, addressed to the jurors who will sit in the trial, which will be tried tomorrow. The letter appeals to the jurors to observe impartial fairness, and declares that Ravachol's acts of vengeance were justified by the criminal attitude of Judge Benoist and Public Prosecutor Buloz at the trial of the Clichy Anarchists. The editor also publishes the text of an anarchist proclamation, which will be printed with a view of influencing the municipal election, which will be held on May 1. This is a violent manifesto, addressed to the jury in the trial, in which the anarchists declare that they will not be intimidated by the police, and that they will continue to fight for their rights.

ANOTHER EXPLOSION.

PARIS, April 25.—The restaurant of M. Very, who, on March 20, delivered Ravachol, the anarchist, into the hands of the police, was utterly wrecked today by a bomb explosion. The force of the explosion was terrific. An enormous cloud of smoke quickly gathered about the shattered building. The police found Very lying on the floor of the restaurant in the midst of debris. He was badly injured, and his legs were broken. He was sent to the hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the leg. A grand-daughter of Very was also injured, and two ladies living in rooms over the restaurant were badly bruised. Very's wife was not injured, but she lost her senses owing to the explosion. At this hour (10 o'clock p. m.) the firemen are clearing away the ruins. Fortunately, the damage done was almost entirely confined to the restaurant, which Very's restaurant is located. A detachment of troops is keeping clear the roadway before the ruined cafe.

It is the general opinion that the explosion was perpetrated mainly to terrorize the jury men who will be on duty at Ravachol's trial. The police think that the bomb was thrown into the basement through a grating. A policeman, who was on duty just outside the restaurant when the explosion occurred, was thrown to the pavement by the shock. He stated that he saw nothing suspicious. A quantity of goods lying exposed in front of an adjoining shop were destroyed. Three persons who were riding in a tram car, which was passing the building when the explosion occurred, were injured by flying missiles. The explosion has terrorized the jury selected to try Ravachol, and the officials who are in any way connected with the trial.

In this city and St. Etienne renewed arrests of anarchists are taking place. Stringent precautions are being taken at the palace of justice to prevent any manifestation from being made by the anarchists during the trial of Ravachol. Few applications are being made for seats, as the people are fearful of dynamite outrages being perpetrated in the courts, and deem it safer to remain away while the proceedings are going on.

ALL QUIET AT ROME.

ROME, April 25.—The reports in circulation to the effect that disturbances had occurred in this city yesterday and were likely to be renewed today, and that in consequence of the gravity of the situation, the authorities had begun barricading the houses of government officials and also the banks and the post office, have been found to be pure inventions. There has been no trouble here whatever, and none of the extreme precautions which it is alleged the authorities and private persons are taking to resist an imaginary mob are visible on the closest scrutiny. The Socialists are showing no signs of preparing for violent manifestations against the government, the nobility or foreign embassies. On the contrary, everything is quiet at present, and pointing to a day of tranquillity and peace.

QUEEN VICTORIA.

HYERS, France, April 25.—Queen Victoria today, accompanied by the prince and princess of Battenberg, started for Darmstadt, where she will visit the ducal family. It is said that she will meet at Darmstadt her daughter, Empress Frederick, and perhaps Emperor William. An enormous crowd assembled on the way to the station, to witness the departure of the royal party, and gave the queen an ovation.

TOM OCHILTREE.

LONDON, April 25.—Colonel Thomas Ochiltree, who has been suffering from an attack of gout for some time, is still confined to his room. Speaking today in regard to the recent duel between Fox and Borrower, Colonel Ochiltree said that he had nothing but feelings of contempt for the whole business, which was a great farce.

YELLOW FEVER.

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 25.—The mortality caused by yellow fever, the growth of which had been checked by heavy rains, is again increasing. On the 15th there were 143 deaths, and on the 16th 150. The epidemic extended from this city and Santos into the interior, and some of the small towns have been almost abandoned by the inhabitants. The heavy rains flooded the cities of Sao Paulo and Santos and caused considerable damage and some loss of life, especially in the latter city, in which thirty or forty persons perished. The damage is estimated at from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000.

MEXICAN LIBERALS.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 25.—The convention of the Liberal party, which met here Saturday evening, voted to approve the reform project to the constitution. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed among the delegates.

COMING TO AMERICA.

SWANSEA, April 25.—It is stated that owing to the depression in the British tin plate trade, resulting from the workings of the McKinley tariff, the proprietors of a number of the largest tin plate factories in Wales intend to erect works in America.

THE KINGFISHER BOOMERS.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE DAILY EAGLE.

KINGFISHER, O. T., April 25.—The ebb is greater than the flow, and the prediction that Kingfisher would experience sensations similar to that of a stuffed doll after the sawdust had run out have not been verified. The people who entered the country on the 15th, and are now returning, those who secured homes are coming back as fast as their jaded horses can carry them, in order to get in line at the land office. The first to file secures a great advantage, as it places him on the defensive in a contest suit, and no claimant is sure he will not be contested. There are nearly 17,000 quarter sections to be filed on at the Kingfisher office. They will follow a long list of contest suits, which will bring many thousands more here. More than this it will be the starting point for an army of freighters for some time to come. So the last boom is greater than the first.

Governor Seay, in writing to old friends in the country, told them that there are more people on the streets of Kingfisher on a common ordinary day than are to be seen in Steeleville at any time except when a Democratic convention is being held or during a circus day.

J. S. Adair's publishing house under his skillful management is rapidly forging to the front. He has set up a new engine and press, moved a building, started a daily and taken a claim—all at one time—and did it well. Earnest, honest, industrious, courageous, competent and confident—he wears his own hat and never finds it necessary to draw upon his family name for success.

The country to west of us, which for unnumbered centuries has slept in aboriginal silence and which was so rudely awakened last Tuesday by the sounds of civilization, i. e., the scramble for claims, confirms upon closer acquaintance all the contradictory reports sent out about it. It is good and bad. It has its long stretches of fertile prairie and its worthless jack-o'-lantern ridges; its thousands of acres where the tall blue stem tells of the wealth of soil below, and its alkali flats that would not grow black-eyed peas. It has its rich valleys and its wastes of shifting sands; it has, too, for inhabitants, its industrious, cheerful squatters and its gloomy and morose millionaires.

When you see a few stretches of level prairie before you a long step may bring you to a canon that bars your progress. You may see timber hills a few miles ahead, and without hesitation you say it is stunted black jack and post-oak; but on arriving there you find a forest of cedars. If you wish to drive across the South Canadian after a rain you may fear it is not fordable and be able to cross it without wetting the bottom of your shoes. Again, after a protracted spell it may be a raging torrent. The question is, Will the character of the people partake of this perverseness? The presumption is that it will not, and the people are all united upon the first political question which has claimed their attention. They say that they will have representation in the political convention which are to be held in Oklahoma this year or know the reason why.

Sick-Headache yields to BEECHAM'S PILLS.

ONE-CENT POSTAGE.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—An effort is being made by persons interested in the passage of the bill recently introduced by Representative Post of Illinois to reduce letter postage from 2 cents to 1 cent. A circular has been distributed broadcast and has been received by nearly every member of the present congress. It contains a list of members who have promised to vote for the bill, and urging non-committed members to support it. The circular has been sent to the people in all doubtful congressional districts, asking that their representatives be instructed to vote for the measure.

In response to requests from the house committee on post-offices and post-roads as to the effect of 1-cent postage, Postmaster General Wanamaker has ascertained that the estimated revenue from domestic mail matter of the first class, chargeable with postage at the rate of 2 cents for each ounce or fraction thereof, mailed during the month of June 1891, was $38,088,197, which amount was equal to 62.5 per cent of the total revenue of the department.

The effect of a change in the rates of postage or conditions affecting the revenue, and it may be assumed, he believes, that the proportions of the different classes of matter shown will apply at the present time. The total estimated revenue of the department for the current year has been $72,771,110, of which amount $45,485,197, or 62.5 per cent, is derived from the first class matter. The reduction of the rate from 2 cents to 1 cent would, in the opinion of the postmaster general, be followed by a corresponding reduction in the revenue. He thinks that while it may reasonably be expected that the stimulus of lower rates would result in something more than the normal growth of the situation, it is not probable that the revenue derived from the extra business would, at the present time, compensate for the loss incurred through a reduction of the rate. The postmaster general is in favor of a reduction of letter postage at the proper time, but he does not believe it has yet arrived, and he will consequently oppose any compromise change on the ground that it is impracticable.

GOLD EXPORTS.

NEW YORK, April 25.—In regard to the gold exports of the last few days, the Post says:

"The renewal of gold exports is attributed to real commercial conditions, as the government's latest trade report shows. The statistics show that in the month of March, for the first time since last July, our country's merchandise imports have exceeded its exports. This change in proportion was occasioned by both a decrease in exports and an increase in imports. The falling off of $4,800,000 in exports is explained wholly by the slow foreign demand for cotton. Other staples increased rather than diminished in their outward movement during March. Meantime, however, our imports of foreign merchandise have risen in the same time $2,000,000 above the February total, reaching the largest figure on record. This is a remarkable increase, rather than a normal relation in our foreign trade, which has held every opportunity to drain our gold."

AMERICAN THEOSOPHISTS.

CHICAGO, April 25.—About one hundred members of the American section of the Theosophical society were present at today's session of the annual convention. The president, Dr. W. W. Lucena, presided over the session, and the services of Professor Driessel were dispensed with. It was decided to request every member of the organization to contribute $1 toward a fund for Colonel Olcott, the retiring president. An executive committee was chosen for the coming year. E. A. Neversheim of New York was elected treasurer and William Q. Judge of New York was re-elected general secretary. Among the twenty-four councilors elected was Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

The society at the afternoon session had an interesting discussion on "Is it Reasonable to Believe in Mahatmas?" Dr. Archibald Keithly said that the existence of mahatmas is a logical conclusion of the law of evolution. He who is laboring for the advancement of the race need higher thinkers. Thus, we who willfully look downward, instead of upward, are compelled to rely upon those scholars of divinity.

A lady delegate asked why Mahatmas (sages) are always located beyond the Himalayas. Mr. Judge responded that we could not have them in America, because every newspaper man in the country would scout them out and chase them to the borders of the world. Furthermore, mahatmas' bodies are not like ours; they are strained to a degree by carnation and reincarnation. Should one of our bodies, in the presence of their superior powers, would take fire and become incinerated.

FOREIGNERS IN THE NAVY YARDS.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The Times has this from its Washington correspondent: "The secretary of the navy has issued an order declaring that none but American citizens shall be appointed to the navy yards, naval service and other naval yards. This determination of the secretary grew out of an interesting incident that happened at the New York navy yard, which is the construction department of that yard, recently recommended the appointment of an Englishman named Arthur Masters to a position in this country only a little over a year. The president of the Association of American Draftsmen, who resides in this city, brought to the attention of Mr. Tracy, who directed that an inquiry be made. It was found that Masters was not a citizen of the United States, and that he had been employed in the navy yards for some time. He was told to secure the resignation of Masters, and if he refused to resign, they were ordered to discharge him immediately. An investigation was made, and it was found that the secretary of the navy was not a citizen of the United States. In the case of those who are already in the service, but who have not been citizens, it is likely that they will be allowed time to take steps toward naturalization."

FALLING OVER A PRECIPICE.

Is a terrible thing even in dreams. The dream of this morning of nightmare awakes with a start and a cry; his limbs bethed in cold perspiration, his heart thumping tremendously. Moral: Don't sleep on your back, and don't dream of falling over a precipice. If you are troubled with dyspepsia and nervousness, use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters to cure these night troubles. For sleeplessness, the insupportable dream of chronic dyspepsia, and its offspring as well, the Bitters is a surprising remedy. The disorder of the stomach is the progenitor of nervousness, and the nervous system is the progenitor of the disorder of the stomach. If we are to restore the brain and nervous system to their normal condition, we must first restore the stomach and regulate the action of the digestive, secretory and excretory organs. Prevent and remedy malaria, indigestion, biliousness, debility, heartburn, sick headache and a gripe with this remedy, which has received the unqualified sanction of eminent physicians.

BROOKLYN'S BISHOP.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The new chimneys of St. Patrick's cathedral rang out this morning with a peal of bells. Brooklyn's bishop, Mr. Charles E. McDonnell, while an immense assemblage of Catholics, was massed in front of the edifice, slowly making its way into the cathedral. The bishop, who is one of the most imposing ceremonies of the church, the consecration of a bishop, was in progress. Prominent clergymen and laymen were present, and many of them were there to participate in the ceremonies. Promptly at the appointed hour (10 o'clock) the procession of priests and bishops, headed by the bishop, entered the cathedral. They were followed by a large number of acolytes, passed from the sacristy to the sanctuary. As the procession moved on, Professor Pachter, organist of the cathedral, played a march from Wagner, the organist, assisting.

The spectacle was one of extraordinary brilliancy. The actors in this solemn but magnificent ceremony were the bishop and the altar and disposed themselves in orderly groupings about the chancel, prepared to begin the performance of the rites prescribed by the rubric.

TRAIN ROBBERS BAFFLED.

WALLACE, Kan., April 25.—The remnants of the gang of toughs that have been hanging about Wallace made an attempt to rob a west-bound passenger train on the Kansas Pacific road here Saturday night. The train pulled into the station, and the gang at the station demanded the money box of the operator. By suddenly extinguishing the light and concealing the cash he saved the money, but the robbers crashed past his head. The robbers then turned their attention to the train. Hearing a pistol shot at the station, the passengers were on their guard before the train stopped, and as the robbers tried to board the train they were met with drawn revolvers. Several shots were exchanged. Stones and track bolts were hurled by the robbers, and seventeen plate glass windows were shattered. An infant was seriously injured by stones and shattered glass falling on its head. While the excitement was at its height the train pulled out. After firing at the station house, the robbers mounted their horses and fled south. The sheriff and a posse are in pursuit.

A CHURCH PANIC.

FORT WAIN, Ind., April 25.—At St. Mary's Catholic church yesterday, while the big edifice was filled almost to suffocation, a panic occurred. The interior of the church was profusely decorated with artificial flowers. A gust of wind disarranged a bunch of paper roses, which blew against a lighted taper. In an instant the flame of the candle was extinguished, and the entire congregation was terror-stricken and made a wild rush for the doors. Many were tripped under foot as a number were on the floor or seriously injured. The priest and the choir leaders among the men exerted their efforts to calm the frightened congregation, and at the same time the decorations were torn from their places as quickly as possible, but not before the church was a number of his assistants were badly injured about the hands and arms.

THE SEDALIA RAPIST.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 25.—Some time ago a person giving his name as Charles McMillan, was arrested here for burglary and theft. He received sentences aggregating twelve years, and is now waiting trial for transfer to the penitentiary. His description answers that of the felon wanted in Sedalia, Missouri, for outraging Mrs. Taylor, and the officers there were telegraphed that he was a few days ago. Mr. Taylor and Detective Klauy came to Houston and returned to Sedalia satisfied that McMillan was the man wanted. At the sight of the fiend that had outraged her Mrs. Taylor fainted, and had to be removed. It is at last settled that McMillan is the man so badly wanted in Sedalia, and for whose capture a vigorous search was made. Sheriff Ellis of this county effected his capture.

THEY NEVER FAIL.

J. N. HARRIS, 3 Fulton Market, New York City, says: "I have been using BRANDRETH'S PILLS for the last fifteen years. There is nothing equal to them as Blood Purifiers and Kidney and Bladder cures. I can testify how remarkably they cure rheumatism, and how easily I was affected by rheumatism in the legs. My business (wholesale) is a heavy one, and I am constantly on my feet. I could not walk, and at night I suffered fearfully. I tried Balaams, Sarsaparilla and all kinds of tinctures, but they did me no good. I was afraid of being a cripple. I finally commenced using BRANDRETH'S PILLS. I took two every night for ten nights, then I began to feel better. I took a box of forty days and I got entirely well. Now, whenever sick, I take BRANDRETH'S PILLS. They never fail."

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 25.—Count de Leopoldina (Henry Lowndes), a prominent speculator, has been declared a bankrupt. His liabilities are estimated at $100,000, and his assets at $250,000.

WORTHLESS CHECKS.

WESTCHESTER, Pa., April 25.—District Attorney Bingham of Chester county has disappeared, and all efforts to find him have thus far proved of no avail. The only trace of him is a check for $100,000, which is a lot of proscribed checks, which are being at the Farmers' National bank at Westchester.

JEALOUSY AND MURDER.

DENVER, Col., April 25.—George Moore, an employee of the Panhandle railroad here, at 2:30 o'clock this morning, shot his wife and Edward McMillan, a saloon keeper, and then shot himself. Mrs. Moore was killed instantly, and her son is dying. McMillan will probably recover. The cause of the tragedy was jealousy.

THE BIG BONANZA MINE.

A Smoking Hole in the Ground out of Which Mackay Took $150,000,000.

I was strolling with Mackay some years ago in Virginia City, when we looked down a smoking cavity in the ground that was soon lost in the darkness, and at the mouth of which a windlass was slowly grinding. "Out of that hole," he said, "I took $150,000,000 in bullion." This was one of the famous Bonanza mines, whose history all men know. The Big Bonanza, as it was called, and as Mackay described it to me the time was a "sidney" or a "pocket" of crude ore, about as high as the steeple of Trinity and in area as large as the City Hall park of New York. This ore, abounded and reduced, gave the stupendous yield to which Mr. Mackay referred, and was the foundation of the Bonanza fortunes.

Associated with him were three other gentlemen, whose names were to win a worldwide mining fame—James G. Fair, afterward senator from Nevada, whose skill as a mining expert had attracted the attention of Mackay; William O'Brien, and James C. Flood. O'Brien and Flood had come to California as friends in the Argonaut days, and had like other men taken their humble parts in the creation of the Pacific states. In those times men who were to be major generals in the army drove drags for a living. Others who were to become luminous in statehood and jurisprudence joyfully mended their own trousers and washed their own linen.

They were "partners," a term that Bret Harte has pathetically explained in one of his exquisite stories. "Partners," that is to say, friends, with a friendship shared as we who live outside of the atmosphere of adventure which infolded the Argonaut days cannot understand, and which would be but vaguely explained if we compared it to the love of man and woman.

"Billy was my partner once," as Mr. Flood said to me one day in Menlo, while we were looking at the portrait of O'Brien. "Billy was my partner once."

It is my partner now, will be my partner forever—a special relationship made a deep link in the life of the most resolute, self-restrained and undemonstrative of men. Flood was the financial representative and the ally of the two young miners who were at work on the Bonanza; O'Brien, the "partner" in the firm, because Flood could have no interest in the mine without O'Brien's aid.

O'Brien passed away in Bonanza times—Flood not many months since, in Germany. He was a brave, independent, reserved, conscientious man, especially charming and true in the higher relations of life—no better citizen, no truer friend—of all that goes toward the true development of mankind, the best man I have ever known," as Mackay said to me when the hour of irretrievable silence had fallen. "I know only one man in the world that can break me, and that is Mackay." This Flood said to me and I note that showing the strong links which in those days bound the Bonanza firm and gave it a strength and a confidence which were the basis of its power.—John Russell Young's Memoirs.
